PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Founder and Director

Inter-Connected

New York, 2017 – present

Inter-Connected explores new paradigms that move us beyond fragmented “us” vs. “them” separation towards a holistic connected world. Through leadership programs, coaching, healing and transformation, workshops, dialogue, and storytelling, the initiative seeks to co-create a world where people and planet can live and thrive together. Partners and clients include the Ford Foundation, Synergos Institute, Netflix, MenEngage Alliance, Solutions Journalism Network, Omega Institute, Seeds of Peace and more.

Founder, President, and CEO

Breakthrough

New York, USA & New Delhi, India 1999 – 2017

Founded Breakthrough, an award-winning global human rights organization with a staff of 160, driving culture change through an intersectional gender lens in India, the US and globally.

Pioneered culture change as a critical strategy for transformation. Built the field of storytelling, narrative shift, and norm change. Used popular culture, music, theater, spoken word, comedy, multi-media and film and community organizing to drive social change by reaching millions.

- Produced groundbreaking album and music video to advance women’s dreams with Virgin Records and STAR TV that reached more than 30 million and created a public dialogue about violence against women. 2001: MTV Award Nominee for Best Indipop Music Video
- Created first social change video games, ICED and America 2049, addressing immigrant rights and racial justice in partnership with more than 100 groups and museums to catalyze public discussion on due process and human rights.
- Produced highly successful Bell Bajao \(Ring the Bell\) campaign calling on men and boys to get engaged in the movement for women’s equality. Reached more than 100 million people in India and around the world and adapted into several languages. Global male leaders like Ban ki-Moon, Patrick Stewart, Peter Gabriel, Amitabh Bachchan and Richard Branson spearheaded the campaign. 2010: Silver Lion at Cannes International Advertising Film Festival.

- Established a holistic and intersectional approach to social change. Combed formative research with participatory and innovative solutions engaging multiple actors from community, government, business, entertainment and educational institutions to shift norms on issues like early marriage, gender based sex-selection, domestic violence, sexual harassment and assault.
- Designed a unique global organizational, governance and fundraising structure challenging traditional hierarchies of Global North and Global South with two equal centers and boards in India and the United States collaborating on overall vision and strategy and leveraging global presence while addressing country specific issues.
- Secured global recognition for Breakthrough with keynotes at global forums like the United Nations, Clinton Global Initiative, World Economic Forum, and the Skoll Forum for Social Entrepreneurship and extensive global media coverage.
- Developed entrepreneurial resource mobilization strategies to amplify scale and impact: pro bono services from advertising agencies, law firms and creative communities for development of initiatives; partnerships with media outlets and government agencies for maximum reach; and, financial resources from UN agencies, corporations, foundations, governments, and individuals to create diverse portfolio.
- Led and executed a robust monitoring and evaluation system to measure impact and encourage learning across program creation, execution and outcomes.

Co-creator and Facilitator, Women's Leadership Intensive Omega Institute

2013-2019

Co-designed and facilitated five-day residential intensive for diverse women's community to do power differently. The intensive incorporated a holistic perspective and brought together loving kindness mindfulness practices, embodiment, intersectional analysis, and more to shift the current paradigm of hierarchical structures to build a more healed and just world for all.
